GRADUATION DINNER NEWS JOHN GIFFIN

On January 15th our Annual Graduation and Recognition Dinner was held at the Unitarian Universalists Church. Eighty two of our members and their guests enjoyed a wonderful social hour, with delicious gourmet appetizers provided by MGs. That was followed by a dinner of roasted pork loin with red bliss potatoes, eggplant parmigiana (a vegetarian option), Caesar salad, and Italian Bread, from Florimonte's Fine Foods and Deli. Dessert was the traditional MG-made tiramisu prepared by Sally Sissel and Mary Ann Kimminau! The program hosted by our President, Dave Banks, began with a slide show of our activities, set to a rousing audio track, prepared by Susan Giandomenico. Carol Fryer announced new and expanding projects. Carol and Art Gustafson recognized those who contributed the most 2008 hours. Mary Liz Sadler and Reba Hazlewood honored the 2008 class with certificates and lanyards, as they officially became Master Gardeners.

We thank the following Master Gardeners for making this dinner possible:

TRAINING CLASS OF 2008 REBA HAZLEWOOD AND MARY LIZ SADLER, COORDINATORS

The twenty graduates of the kept us on our toes from the first days of class with their energy, enthusiasm, curiosity, and eagerness to learn. When they became interns we were busy just keeping record of their hours and activities! Together they accumulated more than 2125 hours of volunteer service to the community, adding considerable depth to our ability to educate our neighbors. They worked in all aspects of the organization, enhancing particularly the plant sale and our efforts with incredible edibles at Child Development Resources. We saw them everywhere we went, frequently with dirty hands, often with comments on the sad state of their own back yards (!),but always with smiles on their faces. They introduced handy, inexpensive, portable boxes for patio plants; provided English-Spanish translation when needed; started, dug up and tended lots of plants for the plant sale; weeded and watered lots of flower beds; were particularly busy and effective in staffing the extended help desk, and in general were always willing to do whatever needed to be done. We had fun!

INTERNAL EDUCATION NEWS CAROL FRYER

On Thursday night, January 15, 2009, at the MG graduation dinner, Art Gustafson and I did a short presentation on the hours that Master Gardeners have contributed in 2008.

Many of our members contribute extensive hours to projects and to administration that allow our organization to accomplish all that we do.

Since not everyone was able to attend the graduation dinner, I have duplicated part of the presentation so that we can again honor those JCC/W MG members who contributed the largest number of volunteer hours during 2008.

COLONIAL WILLIAMSBURG VOLUNTEER APPLICATION LAURA VIANCOUR

The Colonial Williamsburg Landscape department will be accepting applications for volunteer positions at the Reid and Shields gardens through February 11, 2009. The purpose of our volunteer program is to enhance the work of paid staff, meet the business needs of the institution, and above all, support the mission of Colonial Williamsburg.

While we are unable to offer volunteer positions to all who apply, volunteer positions in the Reid and Shields gardens are limited to Master Gardeners in support of a mutually beneficial partnership between the Virginia Cooperative Extension James City County/Williamsburg Master Gardener Association and the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation.

Any Master Gardener who becomes a volunteer in the Reid or Shields garden must commit to volunteering a minimum of 30 hours annually (20 hours of garden work plus 4 hours of training plus 6 hours of miscellaneous work).

Please contact Ginger Bryan, Colonial Williamsburg Volunteer Services, 220-7181 or Master Gardener, Becky Sutton, to learn how to receive an application. Completed applications should be returned to Ginger Bryan by February 11, 2009.

MESSAGE FROM DORIS HEATH, EXTENSION AGENT, FAMILY AND CONSUMER SCIENCES AND UNIT COORDINATOR

I hope each of you had a safe and happy holiday.

Our staff created an annual report (July 2007 to June 2008) to be used as a means to educate local policy makers of the great work that we were doing throughout the county. In the absence of an ANR Extension Agent, it became clear that I had to create a method to collect information from all volunteers to assist me in becoming a better communicator with local administrators, VCE administrators and state/federal legislators.

A form was sent to all Project Chairs, along with instructions, to be shared with the volunteers to assist in capturing data that can in turn be used to report the great work that you are doing throughout the community. Virginia Cooperative Extension (VCE) recognizes the importance of diversity and inclusion in the development and implementation of Extension programs. However, beyond our own interests in participating in VCE programs and teaching classes/workshops, as a federally funded agency, VCE is required to comply with USDA Civil Rights policies, rules and regulations. VCE has established a system for all employees and volunteers to collect and report data on clientele participation in Extension educational programs.

Since sending the form out there has been a few questions and I'm going to make an attempt to explain what we are being asked to do from VCE. VCE ask us to capture two types of contact information when we are providing educational services -- direct and indirect contacts.

Direct contacts are those people that you come face-to-face with and provide educational information, such as in conferences, workshops, trainings, farmers market, letters, etc. You are reporting this information by race, sex, and age. If a person has not completed a form that provides this information, you are not expected to ask people this information; however my suggestion is give it your best guess.

Indirect contacts are when we given educational information in such ways as e-mail, phone, newsletters, articles, etc. These contacts are not counted by race and/or age; they are recorded in the "incomplete demographic data" box on the form.

The only contacts that are not reported are when you are speaking with each other such as to plan educational opportunities, board/committee meetings, speaking with the agent, etc. Mainly anything that is not providing or receiving education.

If you haven't gotten the form yet, or you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me. Please know that any information you collect is better than not collecting any.

MG thoughts and prayers are with:

Leanne DuBois on the death of her father, Barbara Gustafson following surgery, Ailene Bartlett following surgery, Lois Enlow following surgery

UPCOMING HERB SOCIETY EVENTS SALLY SISSELL

Mark your calendars now!

The Colonial Triangle Unit of the Herb Society of America invites all Master Gardeners to two upcoming special events.

1. The March 10 regular meeting will be open to the public and will feature the Williamsburg Botanical Garden's "drama team" which includes our own Helen Hamilton. The team will be presenting its production of "Name Your Poison: an Herbal Mystery". This production was such a hit when presented in the Garden that they decided to "take it on the road", for which the herb society is very thankful. Plan to attend the March 10th meeting at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Norge at 1:30 p.m.

2. Wednesday, April 15th (how can you forget the date: tax day!) the Herb Society will be presenting noted author, Susan Wittig Albert, at the Williamsburg Community Building (where we have our plant sale). Susan is nationally known for writing several series of books--most noteworthy for gardeners is her critically-acclaimed China Bayles series of herbal mysteries. As a friend noted, these are "cozy" mysteries: quick, easy, and fun. Susan will be on a free lecture/book signing tour promoting her latest book: Wormwood. My personal favorite is An Unthymely Death which includes lots of recipes, tips, crafts, etc. Several years ago, Susan came this way and filled the library so if you haven't read one of her books, you may want to give them a try. The actual time of her presentation has not been set --probably 1:00 or 1:30-but I will send a reminder when more details are know. Read a book, come meet the author on April 15th!!

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR PLANT DISPOSAL ART GUSTAFSON

As we all know after every plant sale we are left with a large variety of interesting plants. Even after the 1/2 off sale to all our fellow MG's! This year we will try to put all those plants without a home to good use. So, I am forming a committee, with Susan and Debbie's blessing, to responsibly find proper homes for those plants. I am asking for volunteers to help with this task.

We will need to be creative in this process and do our ground work before the plant sale. We will have a planning meeting early in February. If you would like to volunteer for this task please let me know by e-mail (arthurg@cox.net) or just give me a call (564-1888).

ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP SERIES OFFERED TO HOA'S LINDA LUCAS

As a spin-off from last May's Water Workshop, MGs are now offering a series of one-hour presentations on environmental stewardship for homeowners associations. Three talks have already been given to residents in the Wellington community. A fourth is scheduled for Tuesday, February 10, at the Wellington clubhouse at 6:30pm. The topic that evening will be pond buffers & RPA's. Mandy Miller Doggett, a Wellington resident, is the MG liaison with the Wellington HOA. Another series will begin later in February at Colonial Heritage with Rosemarie Brennan as MG liaison.

Topics include turf issues, basic landscape design, RPA/pond buffer planting, drought-tolerant plants, rain gardens, permeable surfaces, proper planting and pruning. The series provides a way to address specific environmental issues in a community and creates an on-going link to the community that will be useful in promoting other MG services to homeowners such as Turf Love, Landscape Love, Pruning Clinics and special events. Master Gardeners are welcome to join us on February 10 at the Wellington Clubhouse from 6:30 to 7:30pm to hear the program and see if a similar series might be of interest to other HOA's.
