

PASHN, INC.

Incorporated in 2007, Parents and Advocates For Special Housing Needs (PASHN) is a private, non-profit 501 (c) (3) tax exempt organization. Our mission is to provide housing opportunities in the Greater Williamsburg area for individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities so that their physical, emotional, spiritual and social needs are fulfilled. PASHN intends to provide supervised residential facilities specifically designed and coordinated to give each resident a safe home in which he/she can live and grow. Each home will accommodate four to six individuals and the goal is group homes in a village-like setting.

BUILDING COMMUNITY

ONE HOME AT A TIME

PASHN@cox.net ■ WWW.PASHN.ORG

INTELLECTUAL/ DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES DEFINED

Individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities (ID/DD) are characterized by limitations in the areas of daily life such as communication, self-care, and social or employment activities. This population may have, in addition, various mental and physical challenges that make unsupervised, independent living not feasible.

It is our privilege to work with citizens and leaders in our community to insure that these "differently abled" individuals living and working in the Greater Williamsburg area can experience the most complete lives possible, including an opportunity to live independently.

There are currently over 150 adults with ID/DD living with their families in our community. When the need arises, as their parents age, these adults will likely have to relocate to an area where their housing needs can be met, since there are no residential opportunities available for independent living in our area. Such a move would disrupt their lives, forcing them to leave jobs, friends, all that has become familiar to them. The current and projected shortage of residential services in our community compels us to seek alternatives to the inadequate housing provided by the public sector.

BUILDING DESIGN

Each PASHN group home will be designed to allow residents to enjoy life in home settings within the community they are familiar with. Residents will receive the individualized care and support they need to remain active and productive members of society.

We intend, ultimately, to serve the residents through all the stages of their lives, providing respite care, assisted living and convalescent care. These special people deserve the dignity of a place to permanently call home.
